

Rebecca Nathanson, Chapter Chair

Becky Nathanson is a wife and mom of one middle school aged child. More than 2 years ago, she began learning about Critical Race Theory, Anti-racism, and critical theory in general. She was curious whether these ideas had permeated our local school district, but didn't quite know where to begin in a quest to learn more. Then, in March of 2021 she was shocked and disturbed by a local public school's plans to separate students by race in an effort to improve the school's culture.

Then, a few months later, she observed the school board's overreach and complete disregard for parents' concerns during the Mask Mandate discussions, emergency meetings, and policy development.

At this time, Becky learned about Moms for Liberty, and she hasn't looked back. She began as the chair of Curriculum Committee, given her background in instructional design and professional curriculum development. Soon after, she accepted the Chapter Chair position for Moms for Liberty - Duval.

Becky has over 24 years of varied Human Resources experience. Her experiences range from recruiting to labor relations, to instructional design and delivery and leadership development.

All of her experiences have equipped her for this moment. She's focused on a methodical and serious approach to gathering information and knowing the Duval County Public School's Policy Manual. As chapter chair, Becky encourages members to act as "joyful warriors" for children, while driving school district transparency and focusing on positive advocacy of parental rights.

Credentials

BA in Human Resources Management

Over 24 years of varied Human Resources experience, from recruiting to labor relations, to instructional design and delivery and leadership development.

Volunteer serving refugee and immigrant public school students with local nonprofit Kim's Open Door.

Recent Wins

- Cancellation of School Board Members' plans to attend NSBA training for CRT symposium
- Included Moms for Liberty's letter regarding NSBA symposium in official school board meeting documentation
- Supported attorney and plaintiffs in mask mandate lawsuit
- Attended Legislative Days in Tallahassee (200 Moms for Liberty members from across Florida)
- Exposed procedural issues with school board meeting notice and agenda accuracy
- Drove district to acknowledge and comply with legislation regarding the review of all materials provided to students, including books that are donated by non-profits, third-party entities, etc.